PRINCETON THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY · FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1966 · VOL. 5 · No. 1

Introducing Publications

Especially to new students on campus I would like to introduce the student publications of Princeton Seminary, as well as their new personnel. THE WINESKIN reappears with this issue, and will continue its familiar format under the new editorship of Douglas Sprenkle, Senior B.D. student back from a year's internship. He will also be the overseer of VIEWPOINT, the Seminary's unofficial journal of opinion for students and faculty. All copy for THE WINESKIN and all manuscripts for VIEWPOINT should be directed to him.

VIEWPOINT will be making its first appearance of the year in a few weeks. All students are encouraged to consider writing for this publication. Editorial staff is also needed, so if you are interested in making a campus contribution in the publications field, by all means see either Doug Sprenkle or me as soon as possible. Your support of and suggestions for all student publications will be appreciated.

Theatre Workshop Opens for Seminary

Edward Albee's The American Dream and Murray Schisgal's The Tiger will be presented as the first production of the newly founded Princeton Theological Seminary Theatre Workshop. Under the direction of E. Lawrence Gibson, and in cooperation with the Speech Department, this new program will include presentations of one-act and full-length plays and dramatic readings for both chancel and stage.

Tentatively scheduled to follow the October 27-28 presentation of The American Dream and The Tiger are: Jean-Paul Sartre's No Exit, Frank Gilroy's Who'll Save the Playboy?, Martin B. Duberman's In White America, D. L. Swann's Circle Beyond Fear, Lewis Carlino's High Sign, William Hanley's Whisper into My Good Ear, and two adaptations by Lawrence Gibson, Job's Lament and A Lover's Quarrel with the World: the Poetry of Robert Frost. While some of the productions will be presented in the Campus Center or in Miller Chapel, most of the plays and readings will be given in "Studio Seven" of Stuart Hall.

There will also be a weekly workshop each semester, the first one concentrating on problems in acting and the utilization of voice, movement, gesture, costume, makeup, and props. The ninety-minute workshops, which begin in mid-October, will provide short exercises in reading and acting on short scenes. In the Spring a directors workshop will give consideration to problems in producing plays for the worship and witness of the church. Play selection, script preparation, blocking for movement, rehearsing and production management will be the major areas of attention.

This program has as its major objectives the desires (1) to encourage consideration of the medium of drama in expressing man's search for meaning and identity and his struggles to come to grips with life; (2) to benefit from its capacity to display man in his amazing variety of character, disposition, emotion, and thought; and (3) to provide further opportunity for future ministers and church educators to prepare for leadership and/or support in utilizing drama in the work and worship of the church.

Further information may be obtained from Lawrence Gibson, 406 Alexander Hall.

Parking Problems

Due to construction there will be a temporary shortage of parking spaces in the lot behind the Campus Center. While the construction will ultimately result in 48 new spaces, it will be appreciated if for now students cooperate to relieve overload in the following ways: please arrange for car pools if coming from the Princeton Windsor Apartments; please park on the streets adjacent to the campus if you will only be here for a short while; please observe all posted parking regulations.

Dead Birds Viewing

The movie Dead Birds will be presented for all-campus viewing on October 5, immediately following lunch, in the Campus Center Auditorium.

While specifically rented for use in the course Socio-cultural Foundations of Education, the instructors feel the film merits a wider audience. Written by Robert Gardner with sound recordings by Michael Rockefeller, Dead Birds deals with the life of a clan of the Dani people in Western New Guinea, a people who have a classic Neolithic culture and a highly developed system of warfare and revenge.

Wives' Welcome

The Wives' Fellowship serves the function of integrating the moral, spiritual, and financial "backers" of a goodly portion of our student body, into the Seminary community. The council of the Wives' Fellowship is sponsoring a welcome for all wives on Wednesday, October 5, at 7:45 p.m. in the Campus Center Auditorium. The Fellowship will have President and Mrs. McCord as their guests at this first meeting. At the close of the meeting the circles will gather for planning and fellowship.

If You Can Sing . . .

Princeton Seminary's four choirs offer all members of the community an opportunity to participate in a campus ministry of music. The rehearsal schedule is as follows (all rehearsals in Miller Chapel):

Tuesday Morning Male Chorus

This group, open to all male students, is conducted by Mr. Kimbrough. It practices at 1:25 p.m. on Mondays.

Oratorio Choir

All members of the Seminary, including wives, are invited to participate. Mr. Tipton is the conductor and rehearsals are scheduled for 7:15 to 8:30 p.m. each Monday.

Motet Choir

This choir is open to regularly enrolled men and women students, and to wives who are available for scheduled practices and performances. Mr. Jones conducts rehearsals on Wednesdays from 1:15 to 2:10 p.m. The choir sings in chapel on Thursday mornings.

Touring Male Chorus

All male members of the student body, including graduate students, are welcome. Mr. Jones conducts rehearsals on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4:20 to 5:30 p.m.

Reading Room Open

The Reigner Christian Education Reading Room is located on the Stockton Street Campus in the Education Building. It provides valuable resources for students in their field work responsibilities and in the study of Christian education. In addition to a large collection of books on Christian education, general education, and related foundation disciplines, the Reading Room has 100 periodicals, 2500 pamphlets, and complete sets of the church school curriculum materials of more than a dozen denominations.

The audio-visual resources of the Reading Room contain more than 300 film strips, 600 slides, and projection and recording equipment. All of these resources are available for student use.

The Reading Room will be open from 1:30 to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. on Thursday, and from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. on Saturday.

T. T. Rates

Theology Today, now in its 23rd year, is not only known for its articles and reviews on current theological trends, but back numbers contain valuable resource articles on many areas of concern to theological students. Students may now subscribe at a special discount rate of $2.00 for 4 issues. Back issues are available at 50¢ each.

The office of Theology Today is located in room 104 Hodge Hall, and the secretary, Mrs. von Helmolt, will be glad to take subscription orders and answer questions about the journal.

Chapel Commences

The Princeton Seminary chapel services are a vital part of the life of the Seminary. It is hoped that every student will support and take part in these times of worship. Coffee hours in the foyer of the Campus Center following chapel services have in the past proved ideal for discussions with faculty members and fellow students.

Morning chapel is held every Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, from 10:00 to 10:20 a.m. These services are conducted by faculty and members of the senior class. Special extended services, with outstanding guest preachers, are anticipated about once a month and will be announced as scheduled.

Evening chapel is held at 10:00 p.m. every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday and it is conducted by members of the student body. This year the evening service will stress creativity by alternating four basic types of services each week: musical services, including organ, folk, jazz, etc.; liturgy, employing different denominational patterns; dialogue, such as dramatic readings, poetry, and antiphonal readings; and homilies, giving students a chance to share their ideas. Anyone who has suggestions for a program, or who wishes to volunteer as a leader, should see any of the chapel deacons.

Seminary Sports Begin

The intra-mural football league begins official play next Wednesday, October 5. Each dormitory, Junior-Middler off campus, and Senior-Graduate students have teams. Westminster Choir College and the Princeton University Graduate School round out the league.

The first game commences at 2:30 p.m. on October 5. The remaining schedule and team captain listings are posted in Stuart Hall.

Athletic Director Mel Knight has set certain regulations concerning the use of the Seminary gymnasium and athletic facilities. Keys for the gym may be picked up at the campus switchboard, from Mel Knight, or in each dormitory. The gym is open daily from 9:00 a.m. until 11:00 p.m., and on weekends by arrangement with the Athletic Director. Anyone using the building is responsible for locking it and turning off all lights.

New Appointments

The Office of the President takes pleasure in announcing the following new administration and faculty appointments:

Clarence E. Reed has been named Princeton Seminary's first full-time Director of Housing and Student Employment. Mr. Reed joined the Seminary business staff in 1934 after graduating from Princeton High School, and has served as an Assistant to the Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings and as Cashier prior to his new appointment.

As Director of Housing and Student Employment, Mr. Reed will be responsible for all campus housing, including the newly-acquired Princeton-Windsor Apartments; and he will also direct the Seminary's program of assisting students and their wives in finding full and part-time employment.

Adrian L. Pugin has joined the administration as Chief Accounting Officer. Mr. Pugin is a graduate of New York University and is a Certified Public Accountant. He has been employed by Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co. of New York, as a senior accountant and tax specialist; and most recently by the I.B.M. World Trade Corporation, also in New York, as a senior accountant.

James S. Irvine has been appointed Assistant to the Librarian. A graduate of Washington and Jefferson College and Western Theological Seminary, Mr. Irvine earned his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Johns Hopkins. The new member of the Speer Library staff also received his Master of Library Science degree from Carnegie Institute of Technology. Mr. Irvine has served as Pittsburgh Seminary's librarian since 1958.

Elmer G. Homrighausen, Charles R. Erdman Professor of Pastoral Theology, will serve during the first semester as acting Director of Doctoral Studies.

Arend Th. van Leeuwen, Director of the Church and World Institute, Driebergen, the Netherlands, has joined the faculty as Visiting Professor of Christian Ethics for the first semester. Mr. van Leeuwen is well known for his work in the field of Christian missions, and his recent book, Christianity in World History, has engendered much discussion on the problem of the encounter between Christianity and non-Christian faiths. He has also conducted a program at the Church and World Institute which has

Watch for VIEWPOINT!

The first issue of the bi-weekly student publication, VIEWPOINT, will be published next week. It will be a thematic issue, and will contain reflections by several seniors who spent last year in an internship program.

All students and faculty are encouraged to contribute to VIEWPOINT. Poetry, criticism, essays, and commentary on the campus environment, are welcome so long as they express a reflective point of view.

Please submit all articles to the Office of Student Publications at 111 Hodge Hall no later than the Monday preceding the date of issue. There is a copy box for your convenience.

Anyone interested in working on the staff of VIEWPOINT, or who has any questions about the publication, should contact the editor, Douglas Sprenkle. His office hours at 111 Hodge Hall are Mondays, from 10:40 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; Thursdays, from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m.; and Fridays from noon until 5:00 p.m.

Field Education Openings

All students desiring field education positions and who have not as yet been placed, should check with the Office of Field Education as soon as possible. Several good two-day urban and inner city jobs are still available.

Luther Leftovers

The Office of the Registrar reports that students who did not receive their graded term papers last Spring for courses #3475, the Theology of Luther, and #3675, Protestant Confessions, should pick them up as soon as possible. Please see Miss Patterson.

Senior Seminars

Two seminars for college seniors will be held at Princeton Seminary this Fall, the first October 13-16, and the second October 20-23. These Senior Seminars, an outgrowth of the popular Vocations Conference, are specifically designed to introduce college seniors to the goals and resources of a theological education. A unique feature of the program will be an opportunity for college seniors to spend some time on a seminary campus during a typical week. Participants will attend classes, reside in the dormitories, and have an opportunity to engage in dialogue with faculty and students. President McCord will open both sessions with an address, "The Challenge of Theological Education."

Speak Easy

The first Fall meeting of a Princeton young adult group, "Speak Easy," will be held on Tuesday, October 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Conference Room of the First Presbyterian Church of Princeton. The group is open to both single and married young adults and broad community participation is desired. At the first meeting the stimulating film, Parable, which made its debut at the 1965 New York World's Fair, will be shown and discussed. Future meetings will be held every other Tuesday.

sought to equip clergy and laity for the challenges of the ecumenical task in our day. Mr. van Leeuwen received his doctorate at Leiden University. He served for four years as chaplain among the Indonesian students in Holland, and has taught at Azhar University in Cairo and at the Theological Seminary at Malang in East Java.

Daniel L. Migliore, returning from a year's leave of absence at the University of Tübingen, Germany, has been promoted to Assistant Professor of Theology.

Terence E. Fretheim is one of four persons recently appointed to the position of Instructor at Princeton Seminary. Mr. Fretheim, now Instructor in Old Testament, is a graduate of Luther College in Iowa and Lutheran Theological Seminary in St. Paul, Minn. He has done graduate work at the University of Minnesota and was a Fulbright Scholar at the University of Durham, England in 1960-61. Mr. Fretheim is currently completing his doctoral dissertation at Princeton Seminary.

S T Kimbrough has been appointed to the position of Instructor in Biblical Studies. Mr. Kimbrough is a graduate of Birmingham Southern University and Duke Divinity School, and received the Doctor of Theology degree from Princeton Seminary in 1966. Before completing his doctoral studies, Mr. Kimbrough held Methodist pastorates in Alabama, North Carolina, and New Jersey.

Jack M. Maxwell, currently completing his doctoral studies at Princeton Theological Seminary, has joined the faculty as Instructor in Homiletics. A graduate of the University of Texas and Princeton Seminary, Mr. Maxwell was active in the work of the Faith and Life Community of Austin, Texas. The community is well known for its experimental programs in liturgics, a field in which Mr. Maxwell has also devoted much study.

Coval B. MacDonald came to his new post as Instructor in Pastoral Theology from the pastorate of the Trinity Presbyterian Church of Oak Lawn, Ill., a position he has held since 1962. He was previously the chaplain at the University of Chicago Hospital. Before receiving his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Chicago in 1965, Mr. MacDonald graduated from Gordon College and Fuller Theological Seminary. He also holds the degree of Master of Sacred Theology from the Harvard Divinity School.

Playbill

Donald F. Chatfield and Joan Petersen will star in The Tiger, the first Studio Seven Production of the Seminary's Theatre Workshop. Mr. Chatfield will portray the role of Ben, whose inability to cope with French has shattered his hopes of becoming a teacher. In a gesture of defiance he kidnaps a young woman and drags her to his apartment. As Gloria, Joan Petersen becomes less the protesting victim than the willing conspirator, and the cat and mouse game resolves into something approaching love.

The American Dream, the second play of the twin-bill production, will star Katherine Keiffer, Carol Mosely, Bill Petz, Marg Rudolph and Ted Voelker. This satire established Edward Albee as a talent in the American theater.

Both plays will be presented in Studio Seven of Stuart Hall on October 27 and 28.

Windsor Walkers

Residents of the Princeton-Windsor Apartments who find themselves without rides to the Seminary, may note that the junction of Ninianne Blvd. and Marcia Ann Street (by the swimming pool) has been designated the official "I need a ride corner." Those returning to the apartments should stand at the corner of Alexander and College Roads near Brown Hall.

Jobs Available

The Office of Housing and Employment, 109 Hodge Hall, has available a list of excellent job opportunities for students and their wives. Beginning next week, THE WINESKIN will regularly feature a portion of the list. Availabilities will include such positions as counselor, coach, typist, babysitter, driver, interviewer, and Y.M.C.A. worker.

Thompson Installation

William P. Thompson, first layman to be named Stated Clerk (highest executive officer) of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. since 1883, will be officially installed in his post in Miller Chapel at 2:30 p.m., Monday, October 17.

The service of installation will bring to the Seminary campus more than 400 leaders of the United Presbyterian Church and representatives of other communions and ecumenical bodies with which the United Presbyterians have official contact. Attendance at the service will be by invitation.

Note these special regulations:

Because of the number of visitors, the main campus will be closed to all automobile traffic for the entire day of Monday, October 17. Students coming to the campus for brief periods are asked to park on nearby streets. All employees, administrative officers, and faculty are asked to use the parking lots behind the Campus Center and Speer Library. The campus gates will be closed, and only persons carrying invitations to the service of installation will be permitted to drive onto the campus.

A luncheon at the Princeton Inn will precede the service, and participants and guests who will form the procession will robe in Stuart Hall. A reception for the new Stated Clerk, who assumed his duties on July 1, will follow the installation.

Mr. Thompson, who was elected an honorary alumnus of Princeton Seminary at the alumni banquet held in Columbus, Ohio, at the 1965 General Assembly, is an attorney by profession. He holds the A.B. degree from McPherson College of Kansas, and an earned Doctor of Law degree from the University of Chicago. He was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States in 1945, and in 1946 was an Assistant Prosecutor for the International Military Tribunal for the Far East, in Tokyo.

Presbytery of Princeton

The "Presbytery of Princeton," of which all seminary Seniors are members, will meet on Wednesday, October 19, at 7:30 p.m., in Miller Chapel. The purpose of the meeting is to provide an opportunity for the graduating class to catch the flavor of a "typical" presbytery meeting. The "Presbytery of Princeton" is a regular part of the Church Polity and Administration Practicum. All Seniors are required to attend unless a written excuse is sent to the Stated Clerk, Robert Flegel, prior to the meeting. The only valid excuse is a student's being a member of a non-Presbyterian denomination.

The Presbytery will consider the following issues for discussion and action: two calls, one dissolution, one marriage, ministerial finances, examination of candidates, building fund finances, and the Presbytery's social responsibility.

The officers of the "Presbytery of Princeton" are: Moderator, Douglas Sprenkle; Vice-Moderator, Terrence Casteel; Stated Clerk, Robert Flegel; Permanent Clerk, Charles Herrick; Temporary Clerk, Dale Kraai; Presbytery Executive, Peter Sherrard.

The following are the major committee chairmen: Ministerial Relations, Anthony Hite; Candidates and Examinations, George Reed; National Missions, Gordon Williams; Church and Society, Stephen Richardson; Ecclesiastical Affairs, J. Randall Nichols.

Samuel Robinson Prizes

Each year a significant number of Princeton Seminary Students are awarded prizes on the Samuel Robinson Foundation, for mastering the Shorter Catechism. The late Mr. Robinson was a distinguished Philadelphia layman. Those students who wish to participate in the competition must take an examination on the Shorter Catechism, administered by Mr. Macleod in the Homiletics Seminar Room (basement of Miller Chapel) on November 14, at 7:30 p.m. The cash prizes are $150 each.

Junior Class Elections

The Junior Class elections will be held in the Campus Center Auditorium at 1:30 p.m., on Wednesday, October 19. Because the entire election procedure will take place at this time, those students interested in running for office should prepare platforms and brief speeches prior to the meeting.

FORM AND CONTENT EXAM

The examination on the form and content of the English Bible will be administered at 2:30 p.m., Wednesday, October 26, in Room 1, Stuart Hall.

Any student who desires to take this examination should register for it in the Office of the Registrar. Students are reminded that passing the examination is a requirement for graduation.

Bultmann Bonanza

During the week of October 17-21, the Theological Book Agency will feature three works which seek to deal with problems raised by Rudolph Bultmann, and where possible, to move beyond the issues raised by this Continental theologian. First, Carl Braaten from the Lutheran School of Theology in Chicago attempts to summarize the hermeneutical quest of the last decade in his new book, History and Hermeneutics. This volume is the second in a series from Westminster Press entitled "New Directions in Theology." The second book featured this week is Theology and Proclamation, by Gerhard Ebeling of Tübingen, Germany. In this work from Fortress Press, Ebeling makes a concerted plea for a confrontation between scientific theology and the proclamation of the church. Finally, John Macquarrie's new volume, Studies in Christian Existentialism is on sale. This book offers a thorough introduction to the thought of a man who has long been considered an authoritative interpreter of Bultmann.

Koinonia Convenes

Kurt Aland, Professor of Church History at Münster University, Germany, will deliver a lecture on "The Fulfillment of the Ages: Expectations of the Imminent End of the World in the Second Century" at the first meeting of Koinonia on Wednesday, October 19, at 8:00 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Campus Center.

Professor Aland is well known to scholars in several theological disciplines. His published works include Spener Studien, Hilfsbuch zum Lutherstudium, and The Problem of the New Testament Canon. Professor Aland, Princeton Seminary Professor Bruce Metzger, and others were joint editors of the most recent edition of The Greek New Testament. Some of Professor Aland's works will be available on a reserve shelf in the Graduate Study Room of Speer Library.

Doctoral candidates who would like to join Professor Aland for dinner at 6:30 p.m. on October 19 should contact James McPherson (924-6635) within the next week.

The meeting will be open to the faculty, doctoral candidates, and other interested students.

Media Mass Moves

A sub-committee of the Student Council's Church and Society Committee, "Media Mass" intends to explore the various communications media and the visual arts. Its members are Stephen Richardson, 402 Hodge Hall (924-6097); Charles Burton, 306 Brown Hall (921-1508); and Kent Groff, 101 Lynwood Drive, Apt. B-7 (452-2818). "Media Mass" is especially interested in bringing experimental underground movies to the campus, and hopes to have a showing this month. It also plans to bring avant-garde producers to the campus to discuss their works.

Those who ordered magazines through "Media Mass" will receive their first issues in a few weeks. If there is a sufficient demand, the committee will accept further orders for Motive, Renewal, and Christianity and Crisis. Through a special arrangement with the publishers, Christian Century is now available for 10¢ per copy. Students who wish to ensure delivery and save money may subscribe for $3.00 for nine months.

Students interested in these opportunities or programs should contact any one of the above committee members.

The new Stated Clerk, who was elected Moderator of the United Presbyterian General Assembly in 1965, has been active in presbytery, synod, and General Assembly affairs. He was a member of the Assembly's General Council from 1958 to 1964, chaired the Budget and Finance Committee from 1958 to 1964, and also served as chairman of the Special Committee on Capital Needs. In 1964 he was a delegate of the United Presbyterian Church to the 19th General Council of the World Presbyterian Alliance, held in Frankfurt, Germany.

His home is in Wichita, Kansas, where he is an elder in the First Presbyterian Church and active in the local Council of Churches, United Fund, and cultural and civic affairs. In 1956 he received the annual Ecumenical Award of the Kansas Council of Churches.

Actors' Workshops

The first of seven weekly workshops for actors will begin Tuesday, October 18 at 7:00 p.m. in Studio Seven of Stuart Hall. Under the direction of E. Lawrence Gibson, the Actors' Workshop will provide an opportunity for participants to engage in readings and short scenes from numerous plays. Such exercises will aid consideration of several problems in acting, such as the utilization of voice, movement, gesture and timing.

Among the plays which are to be used in the ninety-minute workshops are: Albee's Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? and The Sandbox, Williams' Summer and Smoke, Inge's Picnic, Greene's The Living Room, Gardner's A Thousand Clowns, Pinter's The Room, Ionesco's The Bald Soprano, Eliot's Murder in the Cathedral and Shakespeare's Julius Caesar. Excerpts from these plays and several poems will be used to study the creation of character and to provide practice in interpretation.

The workshops, which will meet from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. for seven consecutive Tuesday evenings, are free and open to all interested persons, regardless of affiliation with the Seminary. The program of readings, improvisations, and acting experiences has purposely been designed to accommodate differing levels of acting ability and dramatic experience.

Persons wishing to enroll in the Actors' Workshop may register early at the Reception Desk of the Speech Studios or see E. Lawrence Gibson, 406 Alexander Hall.

Hans Küng Lecture

Hans Küng, of the University of Tübingen, Germany, will give a lecture on Thursday, October 20, at 4:00 p.m., in Irvine Auditorium (corner of 34th and Spruce Streets), University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. The title of the lecture will be "The Church and Sincerity." Princeton Seminary students and faculty are invited.

Senior Seminar Highlights

The delegates for the Senior Seminars will be in residence this weekend and next. This program, described in THE WINESKIN (October 7), will bring to the campus a selected group of college and university students who have already decided upon graduate theological study. Highlights of this weekend include an opening address by President James McCord at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, October 13; a discussion in Stevenson Lounge on Friday evening led by faculty members on the topic, "New Directions in New Testament Studies: Varying Perspectives, differing Decisions"; and attendance at the dramatic presentation at McCarter Theatre on Saturday night, followed by a visit to the coffee house "The Next Door" at the First Presbyterian Church of Princeton. James Brown, President of the Student Council, will lead an early morning discussion with the delegates on Sunday.

As many of the delegates have been nominated by students of the Seminary, the weekend will also afford many opportunities to renew friendships and acquaintances. Seminary students should note, however, that the activities are geared mainly for the delegates.

Jobs Available

The Office of Housing and Employment has available an extensive list of job opportunities for both men and women. The Office willingly helps wives of students, and has files on both full and part time positions.

Some positions listed are the following:

Babysitters: The Housing and Employment Office has many listings of full and part time babysitting opportunities. Anyone interested in adding his name to the current babysitting list should stop in or call the Office.

Counselor: A male is needed for marketing and/or survey work. This assignment is a combination of public relations and sales. No product is involved but a quasi-religious service is performed. The hours are flexible. One may obtain an interview by phoning Mr. Freck at 585-5800 during the day or 452-9218 in the evening.

Y.M.C.A. Work: Men are needed for many part time positions working with groups of boys in crafts, out-of-doors, and swim programs. There is a detailed list on the bulletin board in Hodge Hall. Call Mr. Sorg at 924-4825.

Interviewer: A female interviewer is needed for survey work, either full or part time. The job is described as "pleasant work for a mature person who likes to meet the public." Pay is based on an hourly rate. For an interview call Mr. Freck at 585-5800 during the day, or 452-9218 in the evening.

Clerk: A female clerk is needed at the Princeton Bank and Trust Co., at Palmer Square. Call Mrs. Hitchcock at 924-5400. This position is full time and pays $3500 yearly.

Receptionist: Robert Hillier, a Princeton architect, needs a woman to answer calls and do "left-over" typing. The hours are 3:30 to 5:30 each week day. Phone 921-8811.

Oratorio Choir

The Princeton Seminary Oratorio Choir under the direction of Mr. Clyde Tipton, with Mr. Agler at the organ, will perform the Advent and Christmas portion of Handel's "The Messiah" on Tuesday evening December 6 at 7:45.

Rehearsals are held on Monday nights from 7:15 to 8:30 in Miller Chapel. This choir is open to all members of the Seminary including wives of students and administration workers.

McCarter Theatre

McCarter Theatre's schedule of events for this academic year is one that excels the combined programs of a score of theatres. Almost nightly, student and community audiences can see concerts, dance programs, classic and foreign films, and professional theatre, performed by both resident repertory and touring companies. Conveniently located at the corner of College Road and University Place, one block from the Seminary Campus, McCarter is one of the greatest assets of the Princeton community.

The unique feature of the McCarter program is a company of resident professional actors performing in classical repertory each academic semester. The company is selected as far as possible from a group of actors auditioned in New York whose experience covers a wide range of roles. Actors for this season, for example, must have had previous training in the performance of classical Greek theatre and Shakespearean roles as well as sufficient experience in modern comedy and tragedy.

The demand for versatility can easily be understood in the light of this Fall's drama series: Agamemnon by Aeschylus, Hamlet by Shakespeare, A View From the Bridge by Arthur Miller, and Once in a Lifetime by Kaufman and Hart. These plays are scheduled for Friday and Saturday evenings through November 19.

Another facet of McCarter's diverse program is its Classic Film Series. The ten films scheduled will examine two subjects in the course of the year: the films of Orson Wells, and screen adaptations of famous novels. Included in the list of films produced and directed by Wells are Othello and The Trail. The second half of the series will include screen versions of Faulkner's Intruder in the Dust, Melville's Billy Budd, Hemingway's The Sun Also Rises, Dostoevski's The Brothers Karamazov and Lawrence's Sons and Lovers.

Season tickets for the Fall Drama Series and the film series, as well as single tickets for scheduled concerts and shows, are available from the McCarter Theatre box office.

On Sale

A new release, The Seminary: Protestant and Catholic, by Walter D. Wagoner, will be on special sale at the Theological Book Agency during the week of October 24-28. The reduced price is $4.20.

This work is by a member of the Princeton community who serves as an officer of The Fund for Theological Education. Wagoner's study has achieved acclaim from both Protestants and Catholics. Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, President Emeritus of Union Theological Seminary in New York says: "From his [Wagoner's] acute and sympathetic inquiry into the preparation of the priesthood, he draws implications for the parallel Protestant enterprise, some articulated, others implied, which add up to a devastating indictment. No Protestant, lay or ordained, can face up to the great Catholic tradition of spiritual direction and nurture without piercing searching of heart. Thus, the volume becomes no less mandatory for those responsible for training Protestant ministers."

Wives' Course

The theme of the Fall Wives' Course is "Biblical Interpretation: Some Questions." It is taught by Daniel L. Migliore, Assistant Professor of Theology. The course, having begun on October 19, will include four more sessions on consecutive Wednesday evenings through November 16. The hours are 7:45-9:30. For more information call Mrs. William E. Chapman (395-0596).

COEMAR Interviews

The Reverend Donald P. Smith, Personnel Secretary for the Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations for the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., will be on campus Tuesday, November 1, from 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Mr. Smith will interview Middlers and Seniors who would like information about career or short-term opportunities with COEMAR.

Persons wishing to see Mr. Smith should register in Mr. Byers' office (Room 16 of the Administration Building).

General Examinations

The Faculty has authorized students who entered the Seminary before the Fall of 1966 to elect to take the general examinations in the Departments of History and Practical Theology according to the provisions of the new syllabus. Students desiring to exercise this right must complete a form available in the Office of the Registrar. Similar action, previously taken by the Department of Biblical Studies, remains in effect.

Bookie Sought

A Middler is wanted for the staff of the Theological Book Agency. Application forms are available at the cash register during regular store hours. Completed forms are due before 4:00 p.m., Wednesday, October 26. Personal interviews will be held.

Farmers' Market

The all-campus Halloween festivities will be held, not surprisingly, on Monday, October 31. Decoration of the dining room and a pumpkin cutting contest will take place between 2:00 and 5:00 p.m., and a dinner party will commence at 6:00. The theme of the Halloween dinner will be a "Los Angeles Farmers' Market." Students and faculty will don their costumes and circle from one stand to another, selecting their own assortment of "goodies" from a vast array of fine foods. Following the dinner Margaret Rudolph will entertain the revelers with a personal selection of her favorite Halloween stories. Tickets will be on sale at the head waiter's desk from October 21-28. The price—$2.00 per person.

The menu will include such treats as steamboat roast au jus, Polish sausages, assorted pies, and cider.

Indulgences

On November 1, 1966 the Theological Book Agency will begin to collect the New Jersey Sales Tax on all purchases not covered by a specific sales tax exemption certificate. This policy has been made necessary due to recent refinements in the interpretation of the basic tax law.

Exemption certificates are available for two groups of T.B.A. customers. First, any church, or other nonprofit organization may obtain an Exempt Organization Certificate (Form ST-5) from the Sales Tax Bureau at the following address:

State of New Jersey
Sales Tax Bureau
P.O. Box 999
Trenton, N.J. 08625

Students who normally buy material for their field work churches are urged to see that their church treasurer, or another responsible officer, has sent a copy of this certificate to the Theological Book Agency.

Second, there is an Exemption Certificate for Student Textbooks (Form ST-16). Any student wishing to avoid paying the tax may obtain these forms in the T.B.A. beginning November 1. A separate form must be filled out for each purchase, but any number of books may be entered on each form.

The form must be filled out accurately, showing: title and price of each textbook; total price of books purchased; name and address of student; the school in which the student is enrolled; and the signature of the student to verify the information.

Only the following books may be purchased with the certificates: (1) Any book listed in the semester book list of the T.B.A. for a course in which a student is enrolled. (2) Any book on the syllabus for a degree program in which a student is enrolled. If the books to be purchased do not conform to these regulations but are required by a professor in a reading course, a thesis course, or a graduate reading program, the student must obtain the professor's signature on the form.

Graduate Fellowships and Scholarships

Mr. Elmer Homrighausen, acting Director of Doctoral Studies, has made the following announcement concerning graduate fellowships and scholarships: Students who wish to apply for doctoral fellowships or scholarships should apply first to the institution in which they plan to study. Those desiring to study at Princeton Theological Seminary, for example, may apply for teaching fellowships through the various academic departments, or for scholarships through the Office of Doctoral Studies.

Other financial aid is available through (1) Presbyterian Graduate Fellowships; (2) Kent Fellowships (the Danforth Foundation), for those preparing for teaching or administration positions in higher education, and who are in graduate study or have completed one year of such study; (3) Marshall Fellowships, for study in a British university; (4) Rockefeller Doctoral Fellowships, for those who plan to teach in a theological seminary; (5) Fulbright Fellowships, for study in a specific discipline abroad; (6) Danforth Graduate Fellowships, for graduate study in many fields; (7) National Defense Fellowships and other United States government fellowships.

The deadline for the Fulbright Fellowships is November 15, but all forms and requirements must be in the Office of Doctoral Studies by November 1.

Rockefeller and Danforth graduate fellows must be nominated by the Committee on Doctoral Studies. Students who desire to have their names placed in nomination for the Rockefeller Fellowships must apply by November 15. The deadline for Danforth applications was October 25.

Applications for Marshall Fellowships and Kent Fellowships must be procured directly from the British Embassy, and the St. Louis office of the Danforth Foundation, respectively.

Students applying for Presbyterian Fellowships should contact the Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia.

Students applying for the Woodrow Wilson Fellowships should see Mr. Samuel Blizzard.

Internship Opportunities

Any student who is interested in an internship during the 1967-1968 academic year should make an appointment with Dean Adams or Mr. Leksa, and file an application in the Office of Field Education. An orientation dinner for all interested students will be held in the Small Dining Room on Wednesday evening, November 16. Watch for further announcements and the chance to sign-up. Specific opportunities will be posted on the Field Education Bulletin Board after November 16.

School Day

On Tuesday, November 1, the annual "School Day" of the Friends of Princeton Seminary will be held on the campus. The Friends are a group of lay men and women who are seeking to promote interest in the life and work of the Seminary among the general public. Members of the group and their guests will attend chapel and join the student body for lunch in the Campus Center Refectory. The Friends greatly appreciate the opportunity to talk with students, and it is hoped that everyone will take time to share his thoughts and experiences with them.

Radicals and Backlash

The Student Council will sponsor a Student-Faculty luncheon, on Thursday, November 3, at 1:00 p.m., in the Small Dining Room. Mr. Richard Shaull will speak on the subject, "The American Church—Between Radicals and Backlash." The fee will be 30¢ for boarders and $1.70 for non-boarders. A sign-up sheet will be posted in the Campus Center foyer.

Open Hearings

The Student Council has decided that future meetings will be open to all interested students who want either to observe or voice concerns which they feel should be discussed by the Council. The next three meetings will be held from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the Student Council Room of the Campus Center on the following Tuesdays: November 1 and 15, December 6. Contact James Brown (921-7797) if there are any questions concerning these meetings.

Chichester Psalms

Leonard Bernstein's recording of his most recent composition, the Chichester Psalms, will be played for Evening Chapel on Monday, October 31. Completed in 1965, this choral composition was first presented at the Cathedral of Chichester, in Sussex, England.

Like its immediate predecessor, the Kaddish Symphony of 1963, this new work is also a choral composition, in Hebrew. There are other resemblances as well, but while the earlier work was a powerhouse of emotion, an intense expression of despair and anguished hope, this new paean is one of serenity and childlike humility. Using Psalms 100, 23, 2, and 131 as his texts Bernstein has composed a score that sets in dramatic opposition the pastoral and the battering violence of peace and war.

Theology Today

Students are again reminded that the outstanding journal, Theology Today, is available at a special discount rate of $2.00 for 4 issues. Back issues sell for 50¢ each.

Subscriptions may be ordered at the office of Theology Today, which is located in room 104 Hodge Hall.

Jobs Available

The Office of Housing and Employment offers the following list to needy seminarians:

A position is available for one who will do typing, filing, and transcription from a Dictaphone. Shorthand is helpful but not necessary. An insurance background would also be useful. Contact Mr. John Wooldridge, 33 Springdale Road, Princeton, 924-1496, after 6:00 p.m.

A group leader is needed for the Pennington branch of the Y.M.C.A. The job requires 2 evenings per week and 2 hours per evening. The salary is $16.00 per week. Please phone Mr. Walter Sorg at 924-4825.

The Office also has available information about openings for certified elementary and secondary teachers in school systems near Princeton.

For Gluttons Only

Mr. Anthony Aspras, dining hall manager, promises that the menu at the all campus Halloween dinner, "The Los Angeles Farmers' Market," will not be forgotten soon. The meal, at 6:00 p.m., on October 31, will include steamboat roast au'jus, corned beef, Polish sausages and pork sausages, boiled green cabbage, green peas with mushrooms, Caesar salad, baked potato with sour cream and chives; apple, cherry, Boston cream, coconut custard, and pumpkin pies; eclairs, layer cake, oranges, apples, candy, cider, hot rolls with butter, coffee, and tea.

Visiting Fellows

Princeton Seminary is fortunate to have an outstanding group of visiting fellows in residence this semester. We take pleasure in welcoming them to the campus. The twelve men represent 5 states and 5 overseas nations.

The Rev. Clayton Vern Beyler comes to us from his position as Chairman, the Division of Bible and Philosophy, Hesston College, Hesston, Kansas. Mr. Beyler received the Th.D. degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky.

The Rev. Lien Hwa Chow is Dean of the Asia Baptist Graduate Theological Seminary, Taipei, Taiwan, the Republic of China. Mr. Chow also holds the Th.D. degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

A Fulbright Visiting Scholar, the Rev. Yasuo Carl Furuya is Associate Professor of Religion at the International Christian University, Tokyo, Japan. Mr. Furuya's Th.D. degree is from Princeton Theological Seminary.

The Rev. J. Stanley Glen is one of three college or university chief executive officers among the visiting fellows. He is the Principal of Knox College, Toronto, Canada. Mr. Glen holds the Ph.D. degree from the University of Toronto.

The Rev. Fred Daniel Gealy, trained at Union Theological Seminary, New York, and holding a Ph.D. degree from Boston University, is another member of the group whose principal academic interest is Biblical studies. Mr. Gealy is Professor of New Testament, the Methodist Theological Seminary in Ohio, Delaware, Ohio.

The Rev. Chul Ha Han comes to us from the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Seoul, Korea. He is Professor of Systematic Theology and the History of Doctrine, and also serves as Librarian. Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia granted Mr. Han the Th.D. degree.

The official biographer of John R. Mott, the Rev. C. Howard Hopkins is the Seminary's only local visiting fellow. Mr. Hopkins lives in Princeton Junction

Dr. Reginald H. Fuller at Koinonia

On Tuesday, November 8, Dr. Reginald H. Fuller will address the Koinonia Fellowship on the subject: "The Heilsgeschichlich Interpretation of the New Testament." The address will be held in the Main Lounge of the Campus Center at 8:00 p.m. Dr. Fuller's latest book is entitled The Foundations of New Testament Christology. He is presently the Baldwin Professor of Sacred Literature at Union Theological Seminary, New York, having been inaugurated to that chair on October 26, 1966.

Mr. Bertil Gaertner of the Seminary faculty will respond to Professor Fuller's address.

All interested persons are invited to attend. There will be no dinner with the speaker prior to the meeting.

Noted Young Organist at Miller Chapel

William Whitehead, noted young concert organist, will give a recital in Miller Chapel from 1:35 to 2:05 p.m. on Thursday, November 10. A graduate of Oklahoma University and the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, Whitehead is the first organist ever to win the annual Young Artist Award of the Philadelphia Orchestra. In addition to his recital activities, Whitehead is the Director of Music at the First Presbyterian Church in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Junior-Middlers Lead League

Princeton Seminary Athletic Director, Mel Knight, reports the following gridiron statistics:

LEAGUE STANDINGS

Junior-Middler	3–0
Princeton University Graduate School #2	3–0
Hodge Hall	2–1
Princeton University Graduate School #1	2–1
Alexander Hall	2–2
Senior-Graduate	1–2
Westminster Choir College	0–3
Brown Hall	0–4

LAST WEEK'S GAMES

Alexander Hall	6
Princeton University Graduate School #1	26
Senior-Graduates	6
Hodge Hall	13
Westminster Choir College	0

The game between Princeton Graduate School #2 and Brown Hall was forfeited by both squads.

Cosmic Coffin

As a post-Halloween special the T.B.A. is featuring, from November 7-11, the works of those gremlins of the church, the "death-of-God" theologians.

The sale will include both Radical Theology and the Death of God, the fundamental introduction to the "death-of-God theology," by Thomas J. J. Altizer and William Hamilton; and The Gospel of Christian Atheism, written by Altizer alone. The combined price is $2.50.

The first work develops the thesis that "God has died in our time, in our history, in our existence." Reviewing The Gospel of Christian Atheism, Robert McAffee Brown declares, "It is not a gospel; it is not Christian; and it is not atheism. In an attempt to celebrate the death of God, this book succeeds only in demonstrating the death of 'death-of-God-theology.'"

Dr. Teh-yao Wu is the President of Tunghai University, Taichung, Taiwan. He earned the Ph.D. degree at Harvard University and was awarded an L.H.D. degree by Hamilton College, Clinton, New York.

Clinical Training Dinner

On November 14 at 6:00 p.m., a dinner will be held in the Small Dining Room to acquaint students with the Clinical Training Program and its place in their preparation for the ministry. The featured speaker will be President McCord. Students who have completed a quarter of clinical training will supplement his remarks, and there will also be a discussion of scholarship assistance.

Interested persons should sign the lists posted in the Campus Center, Stuart Hall, and on the Field Education Bulletin Board. The cost of the dinner is 30¢ for boarders and $2.00 for non-boarders.

Attention Veterans

New payment procedures have been instituted under the G.I. Bill. Seminary veterans should note that monthly certificates of class attendance must now be signed and sent to the Veterans Administration. On the 20th of the following month, payment checks will be mailed. The rate of payment is based upon the type of academic program in which the veteran is enrolled, and the number of his dependents. Dr. Jacobsen Speaks

Dr. Thorkild Jacobsen, Professor of Assyriology at Harvard University and world renowned orientalist, will lecture on "The Gods and the World: The Creation Epic" on Tuesday, November 15, at 1:40 p.m. in Stevenson Lounge.

Born in Copenhagen, Denmark, Dr. Jacobsen received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago where he taught for a number of years. He was also the Director of the Oriental Institute at Chicago. Besides being editor of the Journal of Near Eastern Studies, Professor Jacobsen has published widely in the field of Assyriology.

Missions Lectureship

The Seminary community is reminded that The Students' Lectureship on Missions will be delivered on November 21-22. The lecturer is Dr. Johannes Christiaan Hoekendijk, Professor of Missions, Union Theological Seminary, New York. Complete schedules and a biography will be featured in the next issue of The Wineskin.

Playbill: Two

The Theatre Workshop's second production, A Lover's Quarrel with the World: The Poetry of Robert Frost, is scheduled for Tuesday, November 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the Campus Center Auditorium. No reservations are needed. Participating in the program of readings will be William Culton, Karen Gravengaard, Chris Petrak, Marilyn Ruppart, and Theodore Voelker.

T.B.A. Features

The Theological Book Agency is featuring two Biblical publishing triumphs: The Oxford Annotated Bible with The Apocrypha, and the first printing in English of The Jerusalem Bible. The works are priced at $7.50 and $11.90. A unique feature of the Oxford edition is that it contains the imprimatur of Richard Cardinal Cushing, Archbishop of Boston. Official ecclesiastical authority is thereby given to this work, creating a truly ecumenical study Bible.

Organ Recital Thursday

Lewis Bruun continues the Seminary's series of Thursday half-hour organ recitals. His performance is on November 17, from 1:35 to 2:05 p.m. in Miller Chapel. A member of the faculty of Westminster Choir College, Princeton, Mr. Bruun is also the organist of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Hagerstown, Maryland.

Internship Dinner

Interested students who have not yet signed-up for the internship dinner on November 16, at 6:00 p.m., in the Small Dining Room, should do so immediately. The list is on the Field Education Bulletin Board. At the dinner, Dean Adams, Mr. Leksa, and some of the interns who were in the field last year will address those students considering an internship during the 1967-68 academic year. The cost: boarders, 30¢; non-boarders, $2.00.

Cults Today

Another in the series of Student-Faculty luncheons will be held on Tuesday, November 15, at 1:00 p.m. in the Small Dining Room. Mr. Loetscher will be the speaker. His topic will be "The Importance of the Cults Today." All students are welcome and may sign-up on the list in the Campus Center foyer. The fee is 35¢ for boarders and $1.75 for non-boarders.

Dr. Hoekendijk to Deliver Missions Lectureship

One of the three major lecture series at Princeton Seminary, the Students' Lectureship on Missions, will be delivered next Monday and Tuesday, November 21-22. The speaker is Dr. Johannes C. Hoekendijk, Professor of Missions at Union Theological Seminary in New York. Dr. Hoekendijk's series entitled "Horizons of Hope: Toward a Missionary Theology," will be delivered in Miller Chapel at 1:45 p.m. and 7:45 p.m. on Monday, and at 1:45 p.m. on Tuesday. The lectures are open to the public. It is hoped that students and faculty will invite their friends to hear this distinguished scholar.

Dr. Hoekendijk is a native of Garut, Indonesia. He attended the Missionary Training Institute, Oegstgeest, and the University of Leiden, Holland; and received a doctorate from the University of Utrecht, the Netherlands, in 1940. In addition to his academic achievements, Dr. Hoekendijk has a distinguished record of service to the church in the areas of missions and ecumenics.

From 1947-49, Hoekendijk served as the General Secretary of the Netherlands Missionary Council in Amsterdam. In 1949 he became Secretary of Evangelism for the World Council of Churches and served in that capacity until 1952. In 1953 he returned to the University of Utrecht, where he was Professor of Church History of the Twentieth Century and Professor of Pastoral Theology and Missions. Professor Hoekendijk came to Union Theological Seminary, New York, in 1965.

In addition to publishing some 100 articles on subjects pertaining to ecumenical missions and relations, Hoekendijk has written five books. The most recent are The Church Inside and Out and The Future of the Church, the Church of the Future.

Hoekendijk is a member of the Utrecht Society of Arts and Sciences, and he has served as the Secretary of the Theological Section of the Academic Council of the Netherlands.

Moderator Here Soon

Students and faculty should note that the Reverend Dr. H. Ganse Little, Moderator of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., will speak in morning chapel on Wednesday, November 30. A biography of Dr. Little will appear in the next issue of The Wineskin.

Flick Tonight

Edge of the City, Hollywood's first real and important film on racial tensions, will be shown in the Campus Center Auditorium, tonight, Friday, November 18, at 7:30 p.m. Adapted from Robert Alan Arthur's television drama, "A Man Ten Feet Tall," the film deals with the friendship of two young men on the New York waterfront, a white youth and a Negro co-worker.

Sidney Poitier's portrayal of the young Negro Tommy Tyler drew much attention from the critics when the motion picture appeared in 1957. In the film he befriends a white stevedore, Alex North, played by John Cassavetes. The story of their friendship is set in a background of waterfront toughness and racial bigotry—a bigotry that finally leads to murder.

Turkey, Anyone?

All are invited to attend the campus Thanksgiving Dinner at 6:00 p.m. on November 22. Tickets for faculty and non-boarding students may be obtained at the headwaiter's desk for $2.00.

The menu will include: chilled cider, a whole roast turkey on each table, wild rice stuffing, sweet potatoes, mashed turnips, green beans and corn, corn bread, relish, cranberry salad, hot rolls, pumpkin pie, and mincemeat pie.

Frost and Kennedy

The Theatre Workshop's second production, A Lover's Quarrel with the World: the Poetry of Robert Frost, will be staged on Tuesday, November 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Campus Center Auditorium. As November 22 is the anniversary of the death of President John F. Kennedy, the program will be a tribute to him as well as to Frost. The two men are linked in several ways: both died in 1963, and Frost participated in Kennedy's inaugural ceremony—the first American man of letters to be accorded an official role in an affair of state. No reservations are needed for the production.

A New Reformation?

The Grass Roots Church: A Manifesto for Protestant Renewal, the controversial new release by Stephen Rose, will be on special sale (at $3.50) in the Theological Book Agency. The sale dates are November 21-23.

Rose seeks to offer a positive program in response to the self-criticism within American Protestantism. He calls for a total restructuring of the church at the local level, a new shape which transcends denominationalism. Could Rose, as one critic has implied, be a latter-day Martin Luther, nailing the charter for a new Reformation on a Protestant church door?

Please note that the T.B.A. will be closed on November 24-25.

Sports Corner

The winners kept winning last Wednesday. The Junior-Middlers downed the Senior-Grads 13-7 on two passes from Bob Timberlake to Jim Long and Paul Hammer. Alex almost upset Pugs #2 but were beaten in the last two minutes on a safety. Hodge rolled over Brown Hall 27–0 and Pugs #1 beat the Choir College 13–6.

Volleyball and basketball seasons will soon be underway. All those interested in forming volleyball teams in addition to dorm squads should see Mel Knight. In addition, any men interested in playing on the Seminary's traveling varsity Basketball team should notify the Athletic Director immediately.

Jobs Available

The Princeton Junior Museum needs a student manager to guide and assist high school students in setting up museum exhibits. Field education credit may be granted for this job, which involves 20 hours a week at $2.50 per hour. Anyone interested should contact Mr. Leksa in the Field Education Office.

There is an opening for a Student Manager at the Jack and Jill Dairy Store on Rt. 206. The salary is $1.50 an hour. Interested students should call Mr. Applegate at 924-9893.

A mother's helper is needed for a Lawrenceville family. There are two children to be cared for, three mornings per week. Contact Dr. Charles Allen at 883-9283 after 7:00 p.m.

For additional information contact the Office of Housing and Employment.

Koinonia

Dr. William H. Poteat, Professor of Christianity and Culture at the Divinity School of Duke University, will be guest speaker at the meeting of Koinonia on November 28, at 8:00 p.m. in Stevenson Lounge. His subject will be "Some New Perspectives on Language."

Dr. Poteat received the Ph.D. degree from Duke University and taught at the University of North Carolina and at the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Austin, Texas prior to coming to Duke. He is the author of numerous articles, and presently is a contributor and co-editor of a volume of essays on the work of Michael Polayni. He is also a member of the editorial board of the Christian Scholar. In addition to his interest in Polayni, Dr. Poteat is a student of the works of Kierkegaard and Ludwig Wittgenstein.

The meeting is open to all interested persons. Dr. Poteat will also lecture in the Department of Religion of Princeton University, at 4:00 p.m. on November 28.

Inter-Seminary Meeting

The New York regional meeting of the Inter-Seminary Movement will take place at Princeton Seminary on Saturday, November 19. All of the discussions will be held in the Main Lounge of the Campus Center. The Seminary's student leader in the movement is Wayne Holcomb, 409 Brown Hall. Mr. Holcomb is very willing to discuss the program with interested students.

The Schedule

2:00–2:45 p.m. Arrival and informal discussion.
2:45–4:45 p.m. Business.
5:00–5:30 p.m. Worship service.
5:30–6:00 p.m. Dinner.
6:00–6:30 p.m. Mr. Bruce Metzger, of Princeton Seminary, will speak on the New Testament conception of the church as the people of God, and the significance of this concept for the ecumenical movement.

Moderator Little Leads Chapel Wednesday

The Moderator of the General Assembly, the Reverend H. Ganse Little, D.D., will deliver the sermon at the Chapel service on Wednesday, November 30 at 10:00 a.m. Dr. Little, who is minister of the Presbyterian Church of Pasadena, California, was graduated from Wabash College in 1925 and Princeton Theological Seminary in 1929. Afterwards he pursued graduate studies at Columbia and at Union Theological Seminary, New York.

He has served the following churches: Brown Memorial, Baltimore (as assistant) 1929-1935; Covenant-Central, Williamsport, Pa. (1935-1940); Broad Street, Columbus, Ohio (1940-1952); and since 1952 has been senior minister of the Pasadena Church where he succeeded Eugene C. Blake.

Dr. Little is widely known as a preacher, author, and educator. He has served as a member of the Board of Christian Education for twenty years, eleven of which he was chairman. His preaching ministry has included the National Radio Pulpit, as well as the regular radio ministry over Station KPC in the metropolitan area of Los Angeles. In 1964 he participated in a CBS series of thirteen television "Roman Catholic-Protestant Dialogues." He has been an exchange preacher in Britain for the National Council of Churches and is the author of a book of sermons, Beliefs That Matter; also a commentary on Galatians and the exposition of II Samuel in The Interpreter's Bible.

Dr. Little has been the recipient of honorary degrees from Wabash College, Washington and Jefferson, and the College of Wooster (D.D.), Occidental College (LL.D.), and the University of Southern California (S.T.D.). His son, H. Ganse Little, Jr. is also an alumnus of Princeton Seminary, Class of 1957. He is presently teaching at Williams College in the Department of Philosophy and Religion.

The topic of Dr. Little's sermon will be "Stop the Church, I Want to Get Off!"

Worship Experiments

Current "Experiments" in Worship will be the topic discussed by E. Lawrence Gibson on Wednesday, November 30, at 7:45 p.m. at a program sponsored by the Wives' Fellowship. Consideration will be given to the church's examination, "rediscovery," and experimentation with corporate worship. The church's rapprochement with the contemporary arts will also be considered.

Included in the exploration of notable liturgical experiments will be excerpts from Duke Ellington's "Sacred Service" presented at New York's Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church; "Music for the Worship of God in the Twentieth Century," by students of the General Theological Seminary, New York; the prayers of Malcolm Boyd recorded at the "hungry i"; and Leonard Bernstein's Chichester Psalms.

This all-campus function will be held in the Campus Center Auditorium.

Tutors Needed

The Princeton Tutorial Project, a community-based volunteer organization, offers help to Princeton students in the sixth through twelfth grades. The emphasis is upon working with individuals to increase skills and motivation. Sessions are 7:00-8:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 3:30-5:00 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday. Volunteers are asked to work one session per week. Applications are available on the bulletin board in Stuart Hall.

Chaplain Lee Interviews

Chaplain Kendrick Lee will be on campus November 30, December 1, and December 8 to interview students interested in next Summer's clinical training program. Students wishing to apply should sign the list posted on Mr. Lapsley's door, Room 14, the Campus Center. Applications must be filled out completely before the interview. They are available from Mr. Lapsley and the Field Education Office.

Stewardship Project

Whereas in the past the Princeton Seminary community has given sporadically to numerous causes, the Student Council has decided that this year a concerted effort will be made to contribute substantially to a specific stewardship project. In so doing it is hoped that students, faculty members, and administrative personnel might become involved in the life of some group or movement which needs our support.

Therefore, the Student Council is asking that members of the Seminary community give their suggestions for a suitable project to Council representatives before December 6.

President's Itinerary

During the Thanksgiving recess, President McCord will give a lecture at Assembly's Theological College in Belfast, Ireland. He will also meet with Princeton Seminary alumni in that city. Mr. McCord will then fly to Geneva, Switzerland, where he will attend meetings related to the work of The World Alliance of Reformed and Presbyterian Churches.

Holiday Hitchhikers

All Christmas "vacation bound" students, who have extra space in their cars, have a fine opportunity to demonstrate the holiday spirit: please write your name, date of departure, destination, and approximate returning date on the list on the bulletin board in front of the Office of Student Publications, 111 Hodge Hall. The list is up now. Please use it as soon as possible.

Student-Faculty Luncheon

Mr. Rogers will speak on the topic "Updike's Clergyman," at a Student-Faculty luncheon on Tuesday, November 29, at 1:00 p.m. in the Small Dining Room. Mr. Rogers asks that, if possible, students familiarize themselves with John Updike's novel, Rabbit Run, prior to the meeting. A sign-up sheet is posted in the Campus Center Foyer.

The Lament of Job

The Lament of Job, a dramaturgy written and directed by E. Lawrence Gibson, will be presented at Morning Chapel on Friday, December 2. Based on the Book of Job, The Lament was written to focus consideration upon the questions and affirmations stated and explored in this ancient account of a man ravished by doubt and engulfed by calamity and personal affliction.

Chris Petrak has the title role. John Ross, William Robinson, Charles Gilmore, and James Roghair will portray the well-intentioned friends who offer arguments in the defense of God. Karen Gravengaard will narrate.

On Wednesday, December 7, at 8:00 p.m., the dramaturgy will be presented again at The Lutheran Church of The Messiah, 407 Nassau Street in Princeton. Those who miss the Miller Chapel presentation are invited to attend.

PRINCETON THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY · FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1966 · VOL. 5 · No. 10

John T. Galloway To Preach Wednesday

The Rev. Dr. John T. Galloway, a trustee of the Seminary, will preach in Miller Chapel at 10:00 a.m. Wednesday, December 7. The sermon text is Genesis 1:2-3; and the topic: "Formless Void or Defined Significance." Mr. Galloway's sermons have been recognized for their sound scholarship and depth of theological insight.

Presently the senior minister of the Wayne Presbyterian Church, Wayne, Pennsylvania, Mr. Galloway received the B.A. degree from Muskingum College, 1930; and the B.D. degree from Princeton Theological Seminary, 1933. He was granted a D.D. by Beaver College, 1950; and a Litt.D. by Pikeville College, 1966.

His pastorates include: The Presbyterian Church, Hobart, New York (1934-1937); The First Presbyterian Church, Frankfort, Kentucky (1937-1940); and Roland Park Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, Maryland (1940-1948). He has been in his present post since 1948. Under Mr. Galloway's leadership, the membership of the Wayne Presbyterian Church has quadrupled to its present level of 2800. He has also led four major building campaigns.

Mr. Galloway has served as Chairman of the Church Vocations Committee of Philadelphia Presbytery, and was Moderator of that presbytery in 1960. He has contributed articles to numerous publications including Theology Today, The Christian Advocate, and the Princeton Seminary Bulletin. He has also written articles for the Faith and Life Curriculum of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., and has served on the editorial board of Monday Morning. Mr. Galloway was a guest lecturer in Homiletics at Princeton Seminary for 5 years. He is presently lecturing on "Presbyterianism" at Crozer Theological Seminary.

Mr. Galloway's son, the Rev. John T. Galloway, Jr., graduated from Princeton Seminary last year. He is assistant minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Greenwich, Connecticut.

Double Feature at T.B.A.

The New Theologian, by Ved Mehta, will be on sale at the Theological Book Agency from December 5 to 9. The sale price is $4.20 ($5.95 list).

Mehta's book is concerned as much with the people who write theology, as with theology itself. The author employs the works of theologians and, significantly, personal interviews with them, to attain an "inside track" on the thought of those men who are wrestling with the dialogue between faith and theology, and reason and secularism. Not only does Mehta consider those "giants" of theology—Tillich, Niebuhr, Barth, Bultmann and Bonhoeffer—but he also gives attention to the "death-of-God" school in America and its less extreme British counterpart, "South Bank religion."

The T.B.A. is also offering Philippe Maury's Politics and Evangelism for $1.00. This concise statement points toward the "how" and "why" of a Christian's involvement in political affairs. It comes from the pen of a man who lived through the agonizing political decisions of World War II as a member of the French Underground. After the war, as an official in the French government, Maury was involved in the struggle to rebuild France and Europe. He writes this book to show how involvement in politics can be evangelism.

The Messiah

The Princeton Seminary Oratorio Choir will sing the Advent and Christmas portions of George Frederick Handel's The Messiah, on Tuesday, December 6, at 7:45 p.m. in Miller Chapel. Soloists will be Keitha Needham, Soprano; Marylynn Roberts, Contralto; Jon Cooper, Tenor; and ST Kimbrough, Baritone. Mr. David Agler, a student at Westminster Choir College, will be the organist. Mr. Clyde Tipton, of the Department of Music at Lawrenceville School and assistant to Mr. David Hugh Jones of the Seminary, will conduct. The public is cordially invited. No tickets are required for the performance.

Football Wrap-up

The inevitable happened. After losing by a small margin to Pugs #1, one week before, the Choir College came on to beat Brown Hall 18-0, on Wednesday, November 16. Vastly improved, the Choir College scored on passes in the 1st, 2nd, and 4th quarters.

In the last minute of their game with the Jr.-Middlers, Pugs #2 captured the league championship with a 30-yard touchdown pass. Pugs #2 won 12-6. Scoring the other touchdowns were Paul Hammer for the Jr.-Middlers, on a 25-yard pass, and George Manningly, on an 8-yard run, for the Pugs.

On other games the Sr.-Grads edged out Hodge Hall 7-0 on a short pass from Rick Thyne to Gordy Hess. On another field Pugs #1 beat Alex 14-2.

Organ Footnotes

Tim Wilborn continues the Seminary's series of Thursday half-hour organ recitals. Mr. Wilborn will perform in Miller Chapel on December 8, from 1:35 p.m.-2:05 p.m. A native of Texas and a senior at Westminster Choir College, Mr. Wilborn is organist and choir director at St. John's Reformed Church in Jersey City. The program will include works by Henry Purcell, Paul Hindemith, Marcell Dupre, and Oliver Messiaen.

Last Chance

Chaplain Kendrick Lee, of Trenton State Hospital, will be on campus December 8 to interview students interested in next Summer's clinical training program. This will be Mr. Lee's final interview date. Students wishing to apply should sign the list posted on Mr. Lapsley's door, room 14, the Campus Center. Applications, which must be completed before the interview, are available from Mr. Lapsley or the Field Education Office.

Idle Schoolmarms Sought

Several school systems in the Princeton area have openings for teachers. In the Upper Freehold Regional District, Allentown, N.J., there is a position available immediately for a 7th and 8th grade English teacher.

The Princeton Regional School System has the following openings: 7th and 8th grade English, beginning January 30, 1967; 9th-12th grade French, January 30, 1967; 9th-12th grade Social Studies, January 1, 1967; 7th and 8th grade Physical Education, January 1, 1967; Industrial Arts and Trade, January 30, 1967 or September, 1967; Kindergarten, March 1, 1967; and 1st through 5th grade Physical Education, January 31, 1967.

In the Bound Brook School System, there is an opening for a second grade teacher, beginning January 15, 1967.

Union Industrial Home is in need of two persons to assist with recreational care for disturbed children. The job entails five days per week, 1:00 p.m.-4:00 p.m. The pay is open. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Howard at 695-1491.

Wives' Fellowship Sponsors Bazaar

Hungry for some homemade sweets? Short on ideas for Christmas decorations? Like bargains? "The Harpies' Bazaar" is your answer! This event, sponsored by the Wives' Fellowship, will be held in the Campus Center Auditorium, Friday, December 2, from 6:00 p.m.-10:00 p.m., and Saturday, December 3, from 9:30 a.m.-12:00 noon. It will include a Christmas boutique, a sweet sale, and a "Bargain Basement" full of slightly used items —none costing more than a quarter.

All are invited to share in this preholiday merriment.

Free Occupational Therapy Every Thursday

The staff of The Wineskin offers an excellent opportunity for those of you who, by the week's end, become frustrated with the rigors of academia. Between 3:45 p.m. and 5:13 p.m. every Thursday, we must stuff and mail approximately 700 envelopes. During those weeks when Viewpoint is published, the job takes on Herculean proportions. In fact, it is almost impossible. Therefore, our staff is offering to the Seminary community, free occupational therapy. Come rid yourself of tensions, and help keep our ulcers to a minimum. The place: the stapling and collating room across from the duplicating office. It is our sincere desire to ensure off-campus delivery on Friday or Saturday.

Santa and T.T.

Looking for a meaningful Christmas gift for a student, professor, clergyman, or interested layman? The Office of Theology Today suggests a gift subscription. See Mrs. von Helmolt, 104 Hodge Hall, for special rates.

Lectureships Set

For personal long-range planning: Please note that the L. P. Stone Lectureship is scheduled for February 6-9. The lecturer is Roland H. Bainton, Titus Street Professor of Ecclesiastical History, Emeritus, Yale Divinity School. James M. Robinson, Professor of New Testament, the Southern California School of Theology, will deliver the Annie Kinkead Warfield Lectureship on March 27-31.
